Mölnlycke® procedure trays

All the single-use items needed for a specific surgical intervention, conveniently assembled in a sterile pack to give healthcare professionals a truly customised and complete solution.

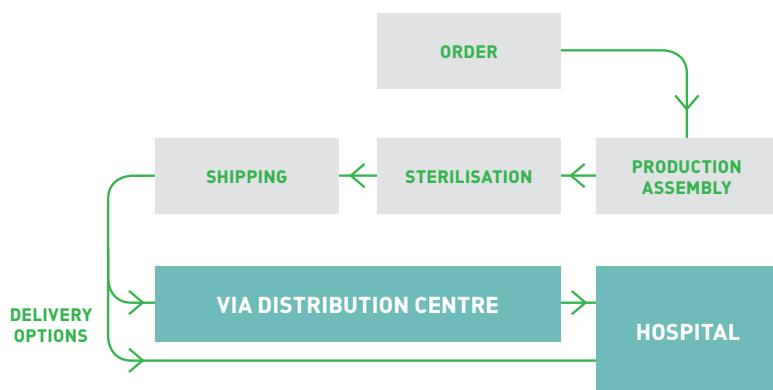

Unlimited number of possible combinations – tailormade solutions for every customer according to their needs. For increased safety and efficiency in the operation room.

40%
less prep time

With everything collected in a Mölnlycke procedure tray, OR staff can reduce preparation time by up to 40%¹

New factory creates value for customers with increased flexibility and capacity

- ✓ New in-house sterilisation the largest sterilisation unit in Europe speeds up the process
- ✓ Flexible delivery options – direct from the factory or through stock-served distribution centres to the hospital
- ✓ New possibilities to add products into the procedure trays after sterilisation
